Mindflair plc

("Mindflair" or the "Company")

Literal Labs wins AI award

Mindflair plc, the AIM-quoted company focused on investing in Artificial Intelligence ("AI"), related technology, is pleased to note that Literal Labs, one of the Company's portfolio companies, has been named a winner in the AI-Research & Innovation Award category at the Global AI Excellence Award 2025.

Literal Labs was recognised in the AI-Research & Innovation Award category as part of the Global AI Excellence Award 2025 programme.

The Global AI Excellence Award recognises organisations advancing AI across a number of categories including integration, innovation, ethics, data, hardware and generative AI. Literal Labs is developing highly efficient logic-based AI technology designed to enable faster, lower-power inference, with a particular focus on delivering AI that can run effectively on standard processors and edge devices. This recognition reflects the strength of Literal Labs' technology and its potential commercial relevance across a range of AI applications.

Nicholas Lee, Director of Mindflair plc, commented: "We are delighted to see Literal Labs recognised with the AI-Research & Innovation Award at the Global AI Excellence Award 2025. This award is an endorsement of the company's technical innovation and reinforces our belief in the strength of Mindflair's AI-focused portfolio. Literal Labs is addressing important challenges around AI efficiency, speed and deployability, and we look forward to supporting its continued progress."
